

LRS UK Call Buttons

What Are Call Buttons For?

Call buttons enable customers, staff, or patients to request immediate assistance or service. Investing in call buttons for your business, regardless of the industry, significantly enhances your service. They offer customers and guests an on-demand experience and provide patients and staff with a reliable system to call for help or support.

LRS UK call buttons are reliable and affordable, allowing you to stand out from competitors by delivering world-class service.

Luxury Buttons

Custom Call for Service Buttons.

The stylish deluxe call button is ideal for high-end restaurants, superyachts, bars, and other quality venues. It allows customers to easily request immediate assistance from staff without needing to search for them.

This unique call button is currently one of a kind on the market, available in a variety of colours (as shown on the colour chart) and fully customisable to meet your specific requirements, from the casing to the button itself. This feature enables you to brand your call button in innovative ways.

Our call buttons are crafted from the highest-quality materials and are compatible with LRS pagers. Unlike other call buttons, these designer options can be equipped with our range extenders and other optional accessories, providing a complete suite of high-end features. We are happy to provide additional details upon request.

Pronto Buttons

Custom Call for Service Buttons.

The LRS Pronto one- or six-button paging system allows customers or staff to request assistance from someone on-site immediately. With six buttons, each one can be programmed with a unique message delivered to one or many pagers. Staff or employees can send a silent page with one touch of a button.

An alert is delivered to anyone in your building wearing a staff pager or to a specific individual for action to be taken. Using LRS pushbutton solutions, you can send a single message or multiple messages to a single person or group.

First Aid

Reliable Communication Tool.

Our emergency call points and call buttons are implemented across the UK as solutions for health, safety, and first aid.

When the call button is pressed, it immediately sends a notification to a staff pager. Upon arrival, the first aider can cancel the alert using the staff paging unit, which informs all pagers that assistance is present and the situation has been addressed.

If the first aid responder requires backup, they can leave the call button active to continue sending alerts to other first aiders until help arrives.
